

BRIDGE CARS COLLIDE.

A Brooklyn Bound Train Runs Into One Standing Still.

E. W. Kelly, a Passenger, Thrown to the Floor and Injured.

Others Badly Shaken Up and Frightened.

A rear end collision close to the Brooklyn station of the bridge at 9.30 this morning resulted in one man being slightly injured and several other passengers being badly shaken up.

A train of five cars had just been pulled away from the platform on the incoming side and another train was approaching at a high rate of speed. The gripman on the first car, as he moved the platform, put on his brakes. In some manner the brake chains were caught underneath the car, and the train came to a sudden stop about one car length from the end of the platform.

The engine was run out to the train and an attempt made to stop it. The report, but it would not budge an inch. The gripman on the platform, seeing another train coming down the grade, displayed a danger signal. The gripman on the incoming train released the cable and tried to stop his train, but he was too late to prevent collision. The trains came together with much force.

There were about a half dozen passengers in the first car of the moving train. One of them, E. W. Kelly, a commercial traveler, was thrown from the car, and landed on his head. He fell sideways against the seat and rolled off onto the floor.

The other passengers were shaken up and some of them were injured. Mr. Kelly was assisted to a seat. Then a gang of workmen arranged the brake chains and the cars were pulled into the depot.

An ambulance surgeon was called. Mr. Kelly was found to have been badly bruised about the arm and to have sustained an injury to a rib. The surgeon said it may have been fractured.

The damage to the cars will not exceed $100.

BROKE A CRANK SHAFT.

Steamer Albion, Bound for Hamburg, Put into This Port.

The German steamer Albion, Capt. Voss, which sailed from New Orleans on April 15, with a cargo of merchandise, for Hamburg and Copenhagen, arrived today.

On April 20, when the vessel was twenty miles south of Cape Hatteras, she broke the low-pressure crank-shaft and decided to make for this port, and the steamer proceeded.

On the 21st temporary repairs were made, and a new crank-shaft was put in place. The vessel proceeded at the rate of three miles per hour against head winds, accompanied by a squally sea. The speed of the vessel was afterwards increased to five miles per hour in calm weather.

MARCHING ON WASHINGTON.

What Will Be Done with the 10,000 Coxeyites at the Capital?

It will be impossible for the 10,000 men now on their way to Washington to find work in that city. What will become of them after the various Coxey armies are disbanded? The Sunday World will have an entertaining article on this question. It will tell also how the Treasury will be guarded, and what will be done to protect the White House.

COXLEY'S.

The Senators and Representatives are studying the problem with some alarm. The time for discussing the causes that led to the march has passed. The men are nearly there, and something must be done at once. Will Washington send them to the front? Will it hold 10,000 men? Can the troops control them in a camp or stockade? If such a course is pursued, what will finally be done with the men?

TWO UNCONSCIOUS FROM GAS.

Kennedy, Father and Son, Found Almost Asphyxiated.

Young Man May Recover, but the Elder is Pretty Certain to Die.

Michael Kennedy, sixty-five years old, and his son, Edward, thirty years old, were removed from their tailor shop, 152 West Fourth street, at 5.10 this morning, to St. Vincent's Hospital, suffering from inhaling gas.

The Kennedys did a prosperous business in their little shop, employing two extra men. Had it not been for the punctuality of one of these journeymen in reporting for work to-day the two men, or the other at least, would undoubtedly have been removed to an undertaker's instead of to the hospital.

The elder Kennedy was an early riser and very methodical in his habits and customs. For years in all seasons his store doors have been open at 7 A. M. This morning, when Edward Kennedy, a coatmaker, called at 7.30 and found the father and son in the room, he was alarmed. He tried to arouse the occupants, who slept in a little room just off the workshop. Then he thought he detected an odor of gas and hurried off and called Policeman Brown.

The policeman found the father and son in a state of unconsciousness. The gas was so strong that they were obliged to defer entering for several minutes.

Lying on their beds, both unconscious, the father and son were found. The father appeared to be dead, but the latter showed signs of life. A hurry call for an ambulance was sent to St. Vincent's. The father was removed to the hospital without delay. On the way the younger man revived, but not sufficiently to tell how the gas happened to be turned on in the bedroom.

Policeman Brown made a thorough investigation, arriving at the conclusion that it was an accident, the result of carelessness on the part of the younger man. The key of the jet was not turned entirely off, or else too far around, there being no guard-pin to prevent the gas and the gas had been escaping all night.

The father is in a critical condition. He is being treated by Dr. Francis Hospital, but little hope is entertained of his recovery.

IS PARKE A SUICIDE?

Relatives Fear that He Threw Himself Over Niagara Falls.

Friends and relatives of James Hunt Parke, son of the head of the drug firm, Parke, Davis & Company, 50 Maiden lane, who mysteriously disappeared from this city April 12, fear that he has committed suicide by throwing himself over Niagara Falls.

The cause of his disappearance is said to have been an overtaxed brain. He was traveling to Hornellville, N. Y., where he bought a ticket for Niagara Falls. At this point all trace of the young man was lost.

Whether Worthy and Walter H. Joy, of this city, are searching every-where for him, and whether they will find him, is not known. The wagon passed over them, and the driver, evidently not another man, and several severe contusions. Engleau was also severely, but was able to go home. Miss Friedman was taken to the Chambers Street Hospital.

CUT HIS WRIST.

Conrad Tries Suicide with a Shoemaker's Knife.

It was reported to the police to-day that Frederick Conrad, a shoemaker, thirty-four years old, living at 142 Johnson avenue, Williamsburg, tried to end his life, last night, by cutting his wrist with a shoemaker's knife. The man was disfigured and had been in the hospital for more than three months.

The ambulance surgeon who attended him said that he would probably die, as he had bled for quite a long while when he was taken to St. Catherine's Hospital.

DIED FROM PARIS GREEN.

The Doctor Says Fahey Took It in Mistake.

Michael Fahey, fifty-three years old, of 223 First street, died at 12.25 this morning from the effects of a dose of Paris green which he took at 6 o'clock last night.

The police are inclined to believe that the man wished to end his life, but Dr. John Corish, who attended him, says he is positive Fahey made a mistake and took the poison, thinking it something else.

MUST ANSWER FOR ATTEMPTED SUICIDE.

Lizette Bell, aged Forty-five Years, of 246 Eldridge Street, Charged with Attempting to Commit Suicide by Taking Paris Green on April 9.

FUNERAL OF FATHER PREIS.

Ceremony at the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer.

Three Thousand People Pay a Tribute of Love to the Deceased.

Nearly three thousand persons crowded into the Roman Catholic Church of the Most Holy Redeemer, 173 East Third street, this morning, to witness the funeral services of Rev. Father Rhabanus Preis, who died last Thursday.

Archbishop Corrigan and over one hundred clergymen from far and near attended the obsequies.

The ceremony was very imposing. The part preceding the requiem high mass was accompanied by an orchestra of wind instruments and the organ, under the leadership of Choir Master Alphonso Weiss.

The mass was celebrated by Rev. Father George Duval, of Baltimore, Vice-Provincial and Procurator of the Eastern Province of the Redemptorists. He was assisted by Rev. Father William Tewe, rector of the Most Holy Redeemer, as Deacon, and Thomas Ott, chaplain of St. Francis Hospital, as Sub-Deacon.

Archbishop Corrigan assisted at the requiem, and presided over the absolution. He was robed in a cope and wore the episcopal white mitre. Dr. McGee, of St. Vincent's, also assisted in the sanctuary.

During the absolution the Archbishop was assisted by Rev. Father Tewe, his secretary; Rev. William Tewe, the rector of the church, and Rev. Father Ott, who was cross-bearer. The Rev. Father Preis was one of the best-known priests in the city. He was born Feb. 17, 1825, in Herzog, Hesse, and was a member of the Redemptorist Order for thirty-four years. For three years he was Superior of the Church of St. Venceslaus, Baltimore, but for the rest of the time he lived in the New York community. He had been ill for a long time, and his death was expected.

It was there that he died while a priest of 2,000 persons, and he was buried in the church of the Most Holy Redeemer in celebration of the fiftieth anniversary of the parish.

From the time the body was transferred to the basement of the church until after the burial, the Independent Redemptorist Order, for thirty-four years, had been in the city. The body was in the New York community. He had been ill for a long time, and his death was expected.

FOR STONING A TRAIN.

An Eleven-Year-Old Boy Reprimanded and Sent Home.

Many complaints from the New York Central Railroad officials have reached Police Headquarters during the past few weeks about gangs of boys who make a practice of stoning passenger trains along Park avenue. In a number of instances windows have been broken and passengers have been slightly injured.

Yesterday afternoon Capt. Westervelt, of the East One Hundred and Fourth street station, sent Policeman Cox to the street and told him to look for a gang of boys in the act of stoning a passenger train.

He caught Richard Kirk, eleven years old, of 108 East One Hundred and Fourth street, and sent him to the Police Court this morning. After receiving a severe reprimand from Justice Wells, the boy was allowed to go home with his father.

KIDNAPPED BY TRAMPS.

Washington Boy Tells a Story of Rough Treatment.

CONNELLSVILLE, Pa., April 25.—Charles Cheeks, aged thirteen, was rescued here yesterday by the police from a gang of tramps. The boy told a terrible story of his treatment since he was kidnapped from his home in Washington, D. C., a week ago. He was stolen from his home by an unknown man, and was taken in charge last Sunday by a gang of tramps, who made him beg for them.

When he refused to ask for food and when he attempted to escape he was cruelly beaten. The boy's condition indicates that he has been pretty roughly handled. He will be sent home.

LOCKED UP IN A WINE CELLAR.

Joseph L. Michel, lapidary and dealer in precious stones, at 345 Maiden Lane, was late getting down to business this morning on account of an unpleasant experience last night. He was with a party of friends in Italia's wine cellar, 81 Nassau street, in the afternoon, and at 6.30 started out with his friends. Being some stairs on his hands, however, he rushed back to wash them, telling his friends to wait slowly, and he would overtake them. It took nearly fifteen minutes to wash off the stains, and when he started to leave he was told to wait. He was told to wait for several weeks. It is not expected that he will recover.

TOLUCA MINERS ATTACKED.

Five Men Wounded in a Row at a Mining Town.

Strikers Used Clubs on Men Who Refused to Quit Work.

(By Associated Press.)
TOLUCA, Ill., April 28.—Rioting broke out here at 8.30 o'clock last night, and the first blood was shed owing to the refusal of several miners to quit work. Five men were wounded before the deputies could reach the scene of the trouble. The fighting was over in two minutes. Several pistols were fired without other effect than to attract a crowd of miners who had been carousing in the neighboring saloons and dance halls.

The wounded are F. Garibaldi, Frank Martini and Demetri Sipke. Two others known to have been badly injured, were carried into the woods by their friends and have not been found. The doctors say the men named will recover. They were only severely bruised. Garibaldi and Martini are Italians, while Sipke is a Pole. After the affray they were carried to a saloon, where their wounds were dressed.

The fight was the result of a meeting of strikers and non-striking miners who said they would not stop work. Words led to blows, and serious trouble was only averted by the intervention of being on the outskirts of the town. The attacking party fled, and after a brief search the strikers were unable to capture them.

MORE BEER BOYCOTTERS.
This Time Bernard Kerna Causes the Arrest of Four.

Twenty boycotters of Budweiser beer for home last night commenced to and for in front of Bernard Kerna's saloon, at the northeast corner of Third avenue and Fourteenth street, and tried to stop every one from entering the saloon. Kerna, who was formerly the President of the Liquor Dealers' Association, finally stepped outside and remonstrated with them, but to no avail. They continued their building tactics, when ever they had the opportunity.

Finally Policeman Rush, of the East Twenty-third street station, intervened and took them into custody, and by a threat to arrest the others induced them to leave the saloon.

The prisoners said they were Matthew Daley, twenty-seven years old, of 443 West Thirty-third street; Patrick McVicker, twenty-nine, of 457 West Twenty-seventh street; Capt. Gallagher or Gallagher, twenty-two, of 457 West Twenty-seventh street; and John Johnson, twenty-two, of 560 West Forty-eighth street. They were, however, subsequently released on bail, furnished by John T. O'Leary, of 457 West Twenty-seventh street.

Monday Justice Burke discharged the prisoners, but ordered them to leave the saloon, and to stop hanging about Grundy's saloon, at Third avenue and Thirty-first street, at day Sunday.

IRON MOUNTAIN'S WOE.

Hundreds Are Without Food, and Rioting Is Feared.

(By Associated Press.)
IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich., April 25.—Poor Commissioner McClintock handed his resignation to Chairman McNaughton, of the County Board, yesterday afternoon. He had been in office for two years, and during that time he had passed a resolution giving him two hours to leave the city or suffer the consequences. Everyone who marched through the streets with a red flag was given a Poor Commission order for $2.00 good at any store, and during the afternoon 300 orders were issued. The men represented a total number in families of 1,000.

Fully as many more orders will be issued to-day. Single men cannot get orders, and are getting bolder. Unless outside assistance arrives soon serious trouble may be expected. A committee leaves to-night for Lansing to appeal to the Governor. Conservative estimates place the number in the city without food at 2,500. Last night the men gathered in a building and decided to ask the State to give immediate aid to prevent rioting.

The assistance given yesterday will tide them over until the morning. The help must arrive at that time or Iron Mountain will be the scene of riots and possible bloodshed. The men are mostly foreigners.

COAL SUPPLY IS LOW.

Now Believed that the Strike Will Soon Be Over.

(By Associated Press.)
PHILADELPHIA, April 28.—The situation in the mining regions at the end of the first week of the big strike remains practically unchanged. Advice received this morning from the mining districts east of the Alleghenies are to the effect that not a mine is in operation with the single exception of a small mine near Oceola, which employs but 100 men.

The reports also state that the supply of coal is fast becoming exhausted. The miners claim that the strike can last but a few days longer, and many operators estimate that it would be better policy to accede to the demands of the strikers and make a small profit rather than keep their mines closed.

The general opinion seems to be that the strike proceedings will be followed by a week. There is already talk of a compromise, and it is believed that an understanding will be reached between the miners and the operators without consulting the President of the United Mine Workers' Association.

NEW MOVE AGAINST THE G. N.

Proceedings Begun to Compel It to Operate Its Lines.

(By Associated Press.)
HELENA, Mont., April 28.—Proceedings were begun in the Supreme Court to-day on behalf of the Attorney-General to compel the Great Northern to operate its lines within Montana. The petition alleges that the Great Northern is in violation of its obligations assumed in the acceptance of its franchise, has wholly ceased to operate any of its lines, although it has been ordered to do so by the court, and that it has refused to comply with an application to have the charter of the road within the State forfeited, on account of the failure to operate the line. The Court has taken the application under consideration.

GREAT NORTHERN SWITCHMEN REFUSE TO WORK AT ST. PAUL.

(By Associated Press.)

ST. PAUL, April 27.—A general freight tie-up is one of the immediate prospects of the strike. The Great Northern, the Union Depot Company, the Milwaukee and the Great Western own most of the yard tracks in St. Paul. The Great Northern switchmen refuse to turn
